

Yerevan - old and new. City tour, Yerevan Brandy factory (6-7 hours)

Available - every day except Sunday

The capital of Armenia - Yerevan was founded in 782 BC, on the site of the ancient fortress of Erebuni. Yerevan is often called the "pink city" due to the fact that many buildings here are built of pink tuff. Walking around Yerevan is the best way to truly immerse yourself in the culture, history and life of the Armenian capital.

During a sightseeing tour (at the request of guests, the tour can be carried out by car with stops) guests will see the main Republic Square with musical fountains, where the Government building and the National Art Gallery are located.

We will walk along Abovyan street (the street is one of the oldest streets and the first in the city was named Astafyan street). We will visit the architectural complex Cascade. One of the most futuristic and large-scale buildings in the USSR, the Cascade was originally built to connect the lower and upper parts of the city. Today, in the park adjacent to the Cascade, there is a museum of modern art, which presents the sculptural works of such masters as Fernando Botero, Barry Flanagan and many others. And those who overcome the 572 steps of the stairs will be able to admire the view of the city.

During the tour we will also visit the Blue Mosque, the City Hall of Yerevan, as well as the Parliament building (one of the five most beautiful parliament buildings in the world).

After the walk, we will visit the Yerevan Brandy Factory, where we will take part in a sightseeing tour, visit the aging hall, the alley named after Aznavour, the museum of the factory. At the end of the tour there will be a tasting (3 types of cognac, VIP package).
